The largest Network of Behavioral Health Resources in the country

Network of Care is recognized by SAMHSA as a qualified expenditure in its recent guidelines for the American Rescue Plan's $1.5 billion Mental Health Block Grant (MHBG) appropriation.

In this four-year grant, SAMHSA explicitly encourages states to use MHBG funding for infrastructure development, as long as the intent of the infrastructure supports or benefits persons with serious mental illness or severe emotional disturbance (SMI-SED). The Network of Care assists persons with SMI-SED in finding treatment, support, awareness, education and other resources necessary for recovery.

REGION II 24 HOUR REGIONAL EMERGENCY COORDINATION/EMERGENCY SUPPORT PROGRAM

Information provided by: Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services

The Emergency Support Program provides support to individuals who are experiencing a mental health or substance abuse emergency. The Emergency Support Program is designed to provide one-time assistance to those individuals in immediate and emergent need to gain access to supports such as medications, physicians, therapy, transportation, etc., to avoid unnecessary hospitalization or other more intense levels of care. If the information gathered indicates an ongoing need, a referral will be made and follow up will be done with the individual. The Emergency Support Program provides services to Law Enforcement including 24/7 crisis response assessments to help determine if an EPC is necessary, mental health training, and a 24/7 emergency mental health number. Emergency Coordination is the networking that occurs between the Emergency Support Program Director and referral sources including but not limited to law enforcement, hospitals, DHHS, County Attorneys and Physicians.

DEPRESSION

IS THIS TOPIC FOR YOU?

This topic covers depression in adults. For information on:

- Depression in young people, see the topic Depression in Children and Teens.
- Depression after childbirth, see the topic Postpartum Depression.
- Depression followed by times of high energy, see the topic Bipolar Disorder.
- Depression and suicide, see Depression and Suicide.

WHAT IS DEPRESSION?

Depression is an illness that causes you to feel sad, lose interest in activities that you've always enjoyed, withdraw from others, and have little energy. It's different from normal feelings of sadness, grief, or low energy. Depression can also cause people to feel hopeless about the future and even think about suicide.

Many people, and sometimes their families, feel embarrassed or ashamed about having depression. Don't let these feelings stand in the way of getting treatment. Remember that depression is a common illness. It affects the young and old, men and women, all ethnic groups, and all professions.

If you think you may be depressed, tell your doctor. Treatment can help you enjoy life again. The sooner you get treatment, the sooner you will feel better.

WHAT CAUSES DEPRESSION?

Depression is a disease. It's not caused by personal weakness and is not a character flaw. When you have depression, there may be problems with activity levels in certain parts of your brain, or chemicals in your brain called neurotransmitters may be out of balance.

Most experts believe that a combination of family history (your genes) and stressful life events may cause depression. Life events can include a death in the family or having a long-term health problem.

Just because you have a family member with depression or have stressful life events doesn't mean you'll get depression.

You also may get depressed even if there is no reason you can think of.

WHAT ARE THE SYMPTOMS?

The symptoms of depression may be hard to notice at first. They vary among people, and you may confuse them with just feeling "off" or with another health problem.

The two most common symptoms of depression are:

- Feeling sad or hopeless nearly every day for at least 2 weeks.
- Losing interest in or not getting pleasure from most daily activities that you used to enjoy, and feeling this way nearly every day for at least 2 weeks.

A serious symptom of depression is thinking about death or suicide. If you or someone you care about talks about this or about feeling hopeless, get help right away.

The screenshot shows the 'Completed Work Requests' section of the MyNetworkOfCare.org dashboard. It includes a navigation menu with options like 'Request Work', 'Site Traffic', 'Community Calendar', 'Agency Reviews', and 'Custom Content'. Below the navigation, there are filters for 'Request Work', 'Open Requests', and 'Completed Requests'. A table lists completed requests with columns for Item #, Requested by, Site, Description, Submitted, Approved, Requested Delivery Date, and Completed Date. Two requests are visible: one for Jacqueline Nielsen and one for Brenda Trujillo. Below the table, there is a section for 'Data provided by Angelfish Software' for Behavioral Health (New Mexico, NM), featuring a line graph of visits per day from August 2nd to 10th and a table of top pages.

The screenshot shows the 'Service Directory > Search' page on MyNetworkOfCare.org. It features a search bar and a 'Select County' dropdown. Below the search bar, there are radio buttons for search types: Active, Declined, Deleted, Finish Later, Incomplete, and Online Requests (selected). There are input fields for 'All or part of Agency Name' and 'All or part of Phone Number', along with a 'Search' button. The results section shows 'Returning 74 of 74 Listings' and includes a table with columns for Agency Name, County/Product, Modified, Tax, Status, and View. The table lists various agencies such as 'Helping Hands Consulting, LLC', 'Soole Solutions: Psychotherapy & Counseling Services', and 'Integrated Psychological Assessment Services'. At the bottom, there is a pagination control showing 'Showing 1 to 10 of 74 entries'.
